

SC Restructuring Questions and Answers
January, 2003

- Q. I understand that DOE will be rewriting its Strategic Plan in 2003. How will that effort affect SC restructuring plans?
- A. The OneSC Project Team believes that a new DOE Strategic Plan will underscore the need for the restructuring and reengineering of the Office of Science.

The purpose of the OneSC Project is to help the Office of Science carry out its mission as efficiently and effectively as possible. It is responsive to the President's Management Agenda, which challenges everyone in government to do a better job of managing resources and producing results. It sets a course in which we are all called upon to strategically manage our human capital, seek increased competition in procurement, improve financial performance, expand e-business systems, and better integrate performance and budget decisions.

By helping fulfill this vision, the OneSC Project will put SC in a better position to respond to whatever new strategic directions the Department may chose to take in a new Strategic Plan.
